Description of the project

The exchange promotes the idea of environmental protection, combating climate change, environmentally friendly investments and the idea of the "Zero Waste" movement. The exchange will focus on the issue of broadly understood ecology and the movement aimed at reducing waste exploitation. Our activities during the implementation of the "Film ecology" project will serve to effectively promote environmental protection in our local communities. An important impulse for us was the common conclusion resulting from our observations, namely, we know that despite a lot of information in the media, in the broadly understood Internet resources , ideas related to eco-technologies, such as the Green Deal, the fight against smog, the zero waste movement, are not widely known in our local communities, which is why we want to influence change in this area.

The "Film ecology" exchange will be designed by us in such a way that we as participants are the direct beneficiaries of the project. Thanks to the project, we gain new experience, skills and qualifications in the field of artistic creation, specifically the production of films promoting environmental protection. The level of our knowledge will increase, we will become more aware of our abilities and open to new experiences related to artistic creation and work within international youth groups. During the project, we will develop our talents and skills in the field of campaigns to raise awareness of the importance of ecology, environmental protection through film activities in which we will create educational films devoted to ecology, advertising films devoted to the method of fighting smog and short viral videos promoting zero waste ideas.
